

Conserving heritage

January 2015 - December 2017

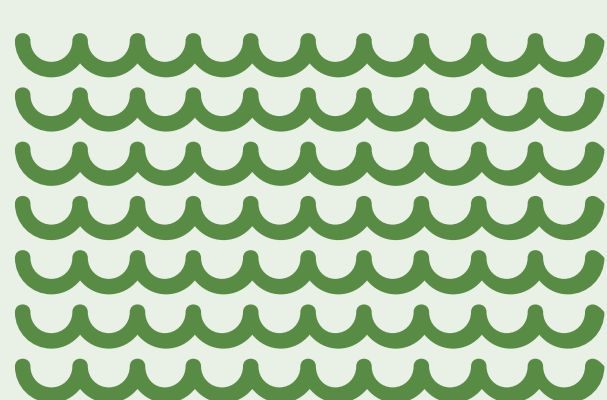

Historic buildings and sites of historic interest on Holy Island have been restored

Archaeological records have been improved with new investigative digs and field walkovers

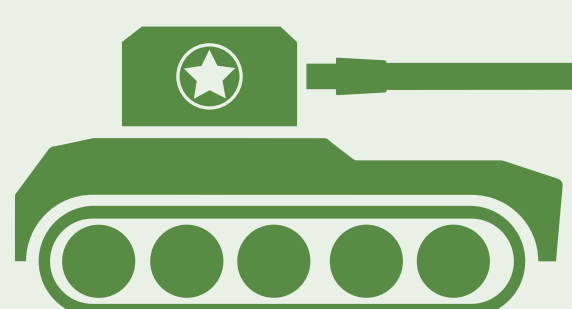

Coastal geology better recorded

Shore birds protected and Little Tern productivity increased

Dune and whin grasslands managed for biodiversity

WWII coastal defences protected

Conservation of community history through new Lindisfarne archive

Completed outputs...

- 8 historic buildings
- 9 archaeological excavations
- 2 military defences
- 5 hectares dune grassland managed
- 2nd rarest seabird protected
- 50 sheep
- 5 archaeological field walkovers
- 15 new heritage reports/records
- 14 landowners engaged
- 3 invasive species audits
- 11 orchid species protected

“Landscape partnerships...aim to conserve areas of distinctive landscape character throughout the UK,”
Heritage Lottery Fund

Evaluation by:

Katherine Williams: Fundraising Consultant
fundraising | project development | project management | evaluation

LOTTERY FUNDED

Participation

January 2015 - December 2017

513 volunteers have contributed >13,000 hours, equivalent to >£280,000

Volunteers have...

Cleaned beaches - removed gorse - sculpted - surveyed - dug - recorded - repaired - researched - made - written - educated - shared - digitalised - walked - potted - created - painted - fixed - built - improved - celebrated - enjoyed

378 skilled volunteers have shared knowledge

"I've learnt so much about the people, places and county I call home"

Community Projects Volunteer

49 professionals have contributed expertise

4 student placements/internships

"I feel very privileged...to have been given the opportunity to help with this excavation"

Archaeology volunteer

4 volunteer conferences

117 unskilled volunteers have made a difference and learnt something new

150 young people have participated in heritage volunteering activities

45 organisations have participated and worked together

Evaluation by:

Katherine Williams: Fundraising Consultant
fundraising | project development | project management | evaluation

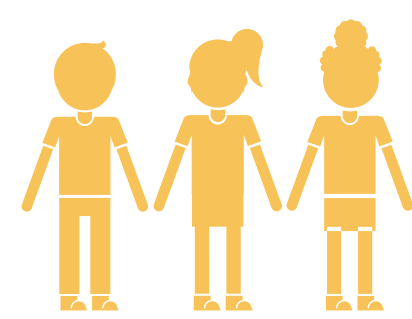

LOTTERY FUNDED

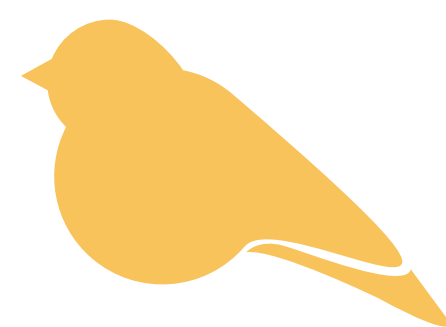

Access & Learning

January 2015 - December 2017

Enabling 7000+ people to access to heritage in the landscape

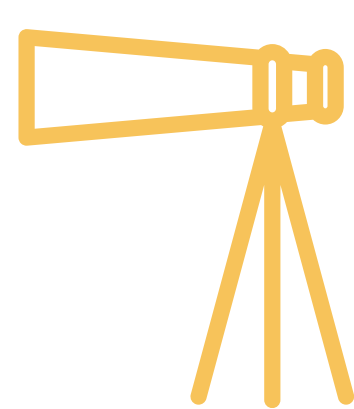

572 children from 9 schools have learnt about heritage

New bird hide at the Lough Pond allows visitors to view wildlife in comfort

Project staff, wardens and volunteers provide new opportunities for visitors to engage with nature

34 guided walks have enabled access to hidden heritage

8 schools loans boxes created to inspire children about local heritage

6,000 people have celebrated heritage at the annual heritage festivals

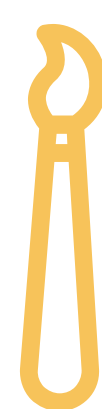

A new community archive has recorded local history and will be available online to all who are interested in exploring heritage

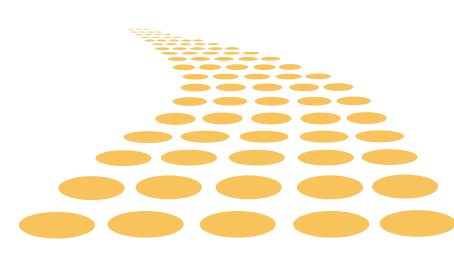

60 college students know more about our heritage

11 professional artists have been supported

2 leaflets & 4 books provide heritage information

250m road resurfaced to improve access

New interpretation will engage new audiences in heritage on Holy Island and at gateway sites on the coast

Lifeboat House now open to the public

Storytelling events have brought heritage to life for 99 people

"I have learnt that some people find fossils off dinosaurs and some find buildings from men"

Warkworth First School Pupil, 2017

Evaluation by:

Katherine Williams: Fundraising Consultant
fundraising | project development | project management | evaluation

LOTTERY FUNDED

Training

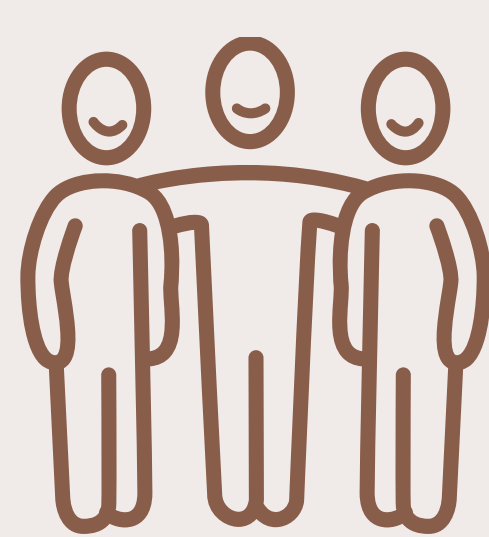

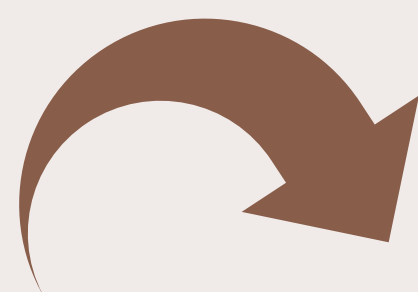

January 2015 - December 2017

513 people have completed training and developed new skills

15 volunteers and 4 staff members have completed certificated training

15 individuals have taken new skills to new paid or voluntary roles in other projects

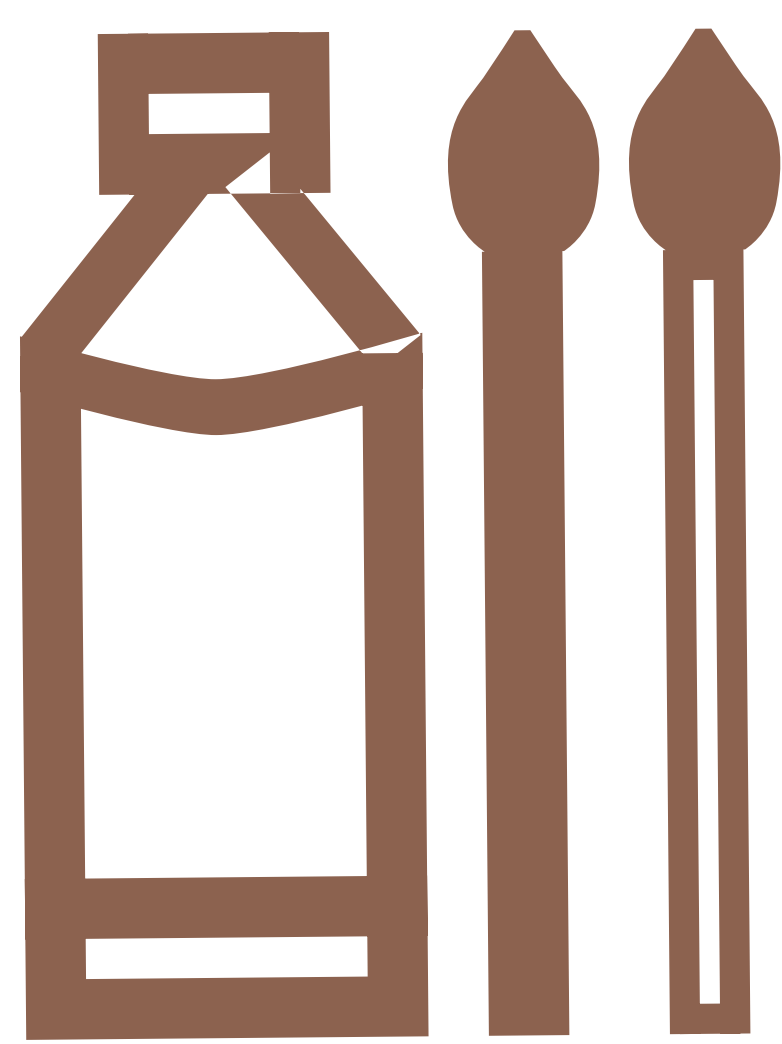

406 volunteers have supported others and shared skills through peer learning and volunteering

15,500 learning hours have been delivered through Peregrini Lindisfarne

Heritage skills training provided:

- ✓ Archiving
- ✓ Geology
- ✓ Archaeology
- ✓ Nature conservation
- ✓ Willow weaving/basketry
- ✓ Creative arts
- ✓ Project management
- ✓ Use of tools
- ✓ Photography
- ✓ Outdoor first aid
- ✓ Outdoor learning
- ✓ Ecological survey skills

Arts and creative skills training has enabled volunteers to contribute to interpretative projects and provided new approaches to understanding the landscape

"Volunteering on the Nesting Shorebird Project increased my skills and knowledge enough for me to gain paid employment as a shorebird warden"

Peregrini volunteer

Evaluation by:

Katherine Williams: Fundraising Consultant
fundraising | project development | project management | evaluation

LOTTERY FUNDED